POLITICAL PARADE

By CLEM WHITAKER

Meet Justus Craemer, a country editor who made good in the city; a public official who hates bureaucracy and all it stands for; a tall rangy, almost ungainly fellow who still believes in private enterprise—and the man who may be the next Governor of California, if you and you and you happen to agree with him!

Mr. Craemer, editor of the Orange Daily News, a member of the powerful State Railroad Commission and a past president of the California Newspaper Publishers association, is only one of the many possible aspirants for Governor next year, but on the stock exchange of politics his shares are soaring.

There is no organized campaign for Craemer as yet; he has made no public announcement of his candidacy and probably hasn't even decided in his own mind whether he will be a candidate. But despite this he has suddenly emerged from the dark horse class and has become one of the GOP's best bets for 1942. Why?

The explanation of Mr. Craemer's unexpected boom, in all like-lihood, lies in the fact that he is virtually the only top-ranking prospective candidate who makes no secret of the policies and principles he would support if he should be elected.

Mr. Craemer stands for economy and tax reduction in state government, just like his canny mentor, former Governor Friend W. Richardson, stood before him. If elected, he would chop costs with a meat axe. He thinks that present expenditures of state government amount to grand larceny—and he says so! He thinks that the growth of bureaucracy is more dangerous to America than even Hitler, because bureaucracy, with its constant encroachment on the rights and livelihood of the people (he asserts) is the incipient autocracy—totalitarianism!

Mr. Craemer is equally forthright on the labor issue. He believes the union labor man is fed up with needless strikes; he believes he needs the right of secret ballot in his union halls—a chance to strike out at the racketeers who have exploited him. Mr. Craemer says he would fight to see that labor got that right—if he were Governor. He would fight to outlaw secondary boycotts. He would fight for the right of every man to wear a union button—or not to wear it—as the man might see fit.

On the question of the proposed constitutional amendment to abolish the present Federal plan of legislative reapportionment in California—and make both houses elective on a strictly population basis—Mr. Craemer also has an opinion. Like Calvin Coolidge said about sin, he is against it. Mr. Craemer thinks it would be unjust and unwise to disenfranchise rural California.

You may agree with Mr. Craemer, or you may not. But the gentleman at least has the courage of his convictions. And today his stock is soaring!

CONCERN FELT FOR LOCAL FOLKS IN THE ISLANDS

Campbell parents who have children living in the Hawaiian islands for whom great concern is naturally felt are Yale Maxon ,son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Y. Maxon, Los Gatos and Santa Clara road; Mrs. Mabel Ekstrand, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Ross of McCoy avenue; Mrs. A. E. Lauritzen (nee Matie Sawyer), daughter of Mrs. Anna Sawyer, Campbell avenue; and Clarence McCorkle, son of Mrs. Aleene McCorkle,who has been at Pearl Harbor for some time.

This is probably not all but those of whom we have knowledge.

Arthur Devitt, and sisters, the former Frances and Mary Devitt, with their families are all residents there. "Red" Courtney is also a resident there.

Bert Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Robinson went over as a member of the San Jose State college football squad. A two word cable from Coach Ben Winkelman received Wednesday morning stated "All Safe" but director of athletics at the college, Glen Hartranft claims reports that the members of the squad are working as special police in downtown Honolulu have been verified.

Art Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Smith of Sunnyside avenue; Harry Warman, Dillon avenue, and "Slats" Pickett, (the only designation we obtained) are among the known Campbell boys that are located at Nichols Field in the Philippines.

Mrs. G. W. Burrow Hostess to Pundita Circle Wednesday

Pundita Circle met at the home of Mrs. G. W. Burrow on Wednesday, Dec. 10. Mrs. L. J. Carboni and Mrs. J. K. Tate were co-hostesses.

The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Wendell C. Thomas, president.

The program was opened by the salute to the flag. Mrs. O. T. Peterson gave several piano selections by the American composer McDowell, and by Albani, a South American composer, and an arrangement of "Silent Night."

Mrs. Tate read selections of Canadian poetry and a history of the poetry of that country.

Mrs. Carboni took as her topic the poetry of Spanish America. Mrs. Peterson again favored the group with a selection by an Austrian composer. Mrs. Rucker read an interesting description about Christmas customes in Mexico. Delicious refreshments with a Christmas air were served.

The group has decided to meet at an earlier hour and do Red Cross sewing during the afternoon, the president stated.

Emergency Defense Mass Meeting At High Aud Tonight

Emergency Defense Warden Ira Grim and his committee have sent out a call for a mass meeting tonight at the high school auditorium, 8 o'clock. At that time plans for home defense and black-outs will be revealed in detail.

Everyone is urged to attend.

RED CROSS DRIVE NETS 567 MEMBERS

Campbell chapter of the American Red Cross has completed its first membership campaign and reports an enrollment of 567 members with collections totaling $673.20, approximately $400 of which remains in the local chapter for community needs.

The committee in charge of the drive, Guy E. Farley, chairman, Mrs. D. H. Cramer, Mrs. Howard J. Smith, Dan W. Clark and Ray Mathis wish to express their thanks for the very generous response, and especially to the following workers who gave so willingly of their time in solicitation:

Raymond B. Bishop, Mrs. A. Jurras, W. H. Stray, Miss Helen Stray, Mrs. Nellie Mills, Mrs. Myrl Block, Mrs. Ben Austin, Mrs. R. C. Page, Miss Jessie Mielke, Dr. W. I. Merrill, Mrs. Mina Williams, Mrs. Frank Weeks, Mrs. Art Robinson, Mrs. M. Whitehouse, Mrs. Alma Leverton, Mrs. F. R. Anderson, Mrs. J. M. Leary, Mrs. F. G. Hastings, Mrs. G. A. Rucker, Mrs. Viola Carboni, Mrs. M. L. Wilkerson, Mrs. Leslie Davidson, Mrs. Lloyd Selig, Mrs. R. D. Weaver, Ira Abbott, Mrs. Esther Short.

W. H. Van Dyke, Miss Barbara Davis, Rev. J. H. Bennett, H. A. Butts, Mrs. M. H. Farnham, Mrs. Henry Jensen, Mrs. Nellie O. Metz, Mrs. R. S. Torrington, Mrs. J. Wright, Mrs. C. E. Fagalde, Mrs. Myrtle Hallett, Mrs. G. L. Taggart, Mrs. Myrtle Sylvester, Mrs. C. B. Dondero, Mrs. John Blaine, Mrs. G. S. Brett and C. A. Warren. There may have been other workers whose names have escaped our attention.

The local chapter is composed of the following officers and directors: Dan W. Clark, president; Ray Mathis, vice-president; Guy E. Farley, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. D. H. Cramer, Mrs. Howard J. Smith, Mrs. Edna F. Smith, Mrs. C. E. Fagalde and Ira Grim, directors.

Anyone overlooked in the drive and who desires to become a member may do so by leaving the subscription at Farley's real estate office, Clark's Drug store or Mathis Red and White store.

Mrs. D. H. Cramer, who suffered a heart attack recently, is taking a complete and extended rest in bed under the doctor's orders.

NO NEWS IS GOOD NEWS

All of Campbell is waiting anxiously for authoritative news of the two Evanses, Harry D., and Harry G., both of whom served here as constables and which office they left for naval service, and Milton Bachman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Bachman.

Evans, Senior was chief petty officer aboard the U. S. S. West Virginia which was sunk in Pearl harbor by the Japanese in their Sunday attack.

The son, Harry G. Evans, who had been at Goat Island in San Francisco bay for several months was recently assigned to duty on the U. S. S. Tangier.

Bud Bachman as he is popularly known, is stationed on the U. S. S. Arctic, a supply ship that has been running from San Francisco to Hawaii. The present whereabouts of the boat is, of course, a navy secret.

The relatives of these sailors of Uncle Sam's navy and all others who have loved ones in service have the sympathy and concern of all their fellow townsmen in these days of peril.

Sigmas Sponsor Travel Movie

The Sigma Sigma club is sponsoring the premier showing of an all-color motion picture of Latin American life on the evening of Jan. 5 in the Campbell grammar school auditorium. The picture is entitled "Latitude Zero," and was taken in Ecuador last summer by Herbert Knapp, world traveler, lecturer and cinematographer, who will comment as he projects the picture.

Sigmas last year sponsored a movie by Knapp on the Fiji Islands, which was tremendously well received. The lecturer traveled in South America under the auspices of the United States government in connection with the good neighbor program. The picture is being shown in the United States by the Leigh Bureau of Lectures and Entertainments. This is the same lecture circuit on which Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt is appearing, and will be the first showing of this unusual picture in this country.

GUY FARLEY CHAIRMAN OF SETTLERS' DAY

The chamber of commerce in session Monday evening with President John Breeding presiding, elected Cyril Peterman, manager of the local Sprouse-Reitz store, as vice president and J. M. Dahl a member of the board of directors in place of Dan Clark, who is unable to serve as his business makes it impossible for him to attend the meetings.

A committee to plan for Old Settlers' day was appointed including G. E. Farley, chairman; Dr. W. I. Merrill and H. M. Shadle.

The sum of $21.00 was received from Mrs. W. R. Morgan as head of the Campbell women, the same being a portion of the prize money won by them in participation in the county fair. At the suggestion of the women the sum of $10.00 was donated to the Red Cross.

Constable E. E. Lanphear, Antone Ferro and E. C. Merrill appeared before the meeting as representatives of the fire department and rendered a report on progress being made with the telephone company relative to phone calls for the fire department when the dial system is installed.

Players Enjoy Yule Party and One-Acter Tues.

The annual Christmas party of The Footlighters was held Tuesday evening in the hall. A beautifully decorated tree under which many gifts were placed and distributed later, was an effective part of the evening's gayety.

Members came to the party dessed as kids and Gene Hodges was awarded first prize for the best dressed child and Theodore Herold was awarded second prize.

A one act play "Spring" in which Vivian Becker took the part of the girl; Dean Chamberlin, the gob; and Warren Turner, the cop, was brilliantly dramatized in a very realistic park scene replete with trees, shrubs, benches and a full moon. The players and the director, Ted Herold. were roundly applauded for their efforts.

Following the distribution of gifts, appropriate and delicious refreshments were served by a committee headed by Ida Levenberg .

Preceeding the festivities a lively business session was conducted by LBen Howard, president. Several plays for future production were reviewed and selections will be made soon by committees.

The next regular meeting will be held Jan. 13 at which time Lenore Weaver will be in charge of the entertainment.

Ira Grim Is Emergency Defense Chief

At a special session of the chamber of commerce yesterday noon presided over by President John Breeding, Ira Grim was appointed emergency warden to coordinate local defense efforts and black-out plans.

A general report on defense activities of other valley communities was given by Antone Ferro, assistant fire chief, and Ethan Lanphear, fire district commissioner who, with others, had Tuesday night attended a meeting of the county defense committee. Lanphear had prepared a basic program of action, which was duly accepted. First steps included the calling of a mass meeting scheduled for this evening at the high school auditorium; the circulation of cards of instructions in event of black-out or disaster, and a call for registration of all practical and registered nurses, emergency police and firemen at the office of the Campbell Water company. A replica of this instruction card will be found on page 2 of the Press.

Assisting Grim are Jack Scott, deputy warden and fire chief; Antone Ferro, deputy warden and assistant fire chief, and Ethan Lanphear ,constable.

Speed is the essence of the plan, warned Lanphear, who said, "During these times anything can happen." It is hoped that everything will be in readiness for a practice black-out at week's end.

Conducts School Of Instruction for Fellow Officers

Jack Murdock, the 1942 president of the Campbell Kiwanis club, conducted a school of instruction for his fellow officers and committee chairmen at Tuesday's meeting of the club.

In the order of proceedings he gave an inspirational talk on the benefits of Kiwanis to its members in conducting meetings and serving in various capacities. Other suggestions were for the good of the order.

Mrs. Eugene Bergeron played several piano selections, one of her own composition.

Next Tuesday, immediately at the conclusion of luncheon, the club will adjourn as a body to the high school auditorium where the a cappella choir will present a Christmas concert.

This program is open to the public and will take the place of the P.-T. A. Christmas party that was postponed from last night.

Mrs. Alice Waltrip of the Orchard City creamery was in Santa Cruz Wednesday to attend the funeral of a niece.

BILL OF RIGHTS

December 15 has been set aside throughout the nation as a day for giving special observance to the Bill of Rights, those memorable first ten amendments to the Constitution which, through 150 years of turbulent world change, have assured freedom of the press and guaranteed to all Americans the inviolable right to speak, think and worship as free men.

These too much taken for granted liberties need to be recalled to us. We need to remember they are not necessarily everlasting. We need to remember the democratic way of life is not a thing apart, not something floating magically in space. It is a way of life tied to practical reality and directly linked to America's system of free private enterprise.

Dictatorship arose in Europe only after the system of free enterprise foundered and people, weakened and broken by economic misfortune, blindly submitted their lives to total control by the State.

The desruction of personal freedom and free enterprise goes hand in hand. The present emergency, bringing extensive government control of our economic life, must not be permitted to make such control permanent. A free economy, like personal freedom, cannot survive if it is to become a monopoly of a few.

The essence of the Bill of Rights, with which our system of free enterprise is inseparably linked, is its guarantee of freedom to all.

WATCH OUT FOR RATIONS

Coming events, they say, cast their shadows before them, but on the sumptuously arrayed shelves and in the glittering show windows which are greeting the greatest shopping season in the nation's history, there is small hint that rations will soon be the fashion.

California offices of the OPM have just warned that come the first of January many now familiar goods and services will be conspicuous by their absence or scarcity. Defense is no respecter of luxuries or non-essential items. Permanent waves and phonograph records, both users of acetate, are on the list. Ethyl gasoline for non-defense use will vanish from the market and so will the manufacture of metal office furniture, juke boxes and steel hairpins.

Stores have pledged their all-out support to the OPM's war on waste and are enlisting the pledges of all consumers in the patriotic effort to buy wisely and conserve carefully. Even the term "waste" paper will soon be a misnomer, as every shopper will agree on hearing the country's retailers face a 570,000 ton shortage of so common a product as wrapping paper. On scores of other goods, from aluminum to zinc, the nation must be prepared for rationing or doing without.

Conservation week used to come once a year. Now conservation is the everyday business of everyone from manufacturer to housewife.

A RARE GIFT

Time was when an orange in a Christmas stocking was an unusual gift. Today California oranges are commonplaces in all seasons all over the country. But perhaps we can recapture the memory of those days and glimpse our own present good fortune in the following current news item. — Copenhagen, Denmark. The first Christmas oranges have gone on sale this week. The price, $1.20 each.

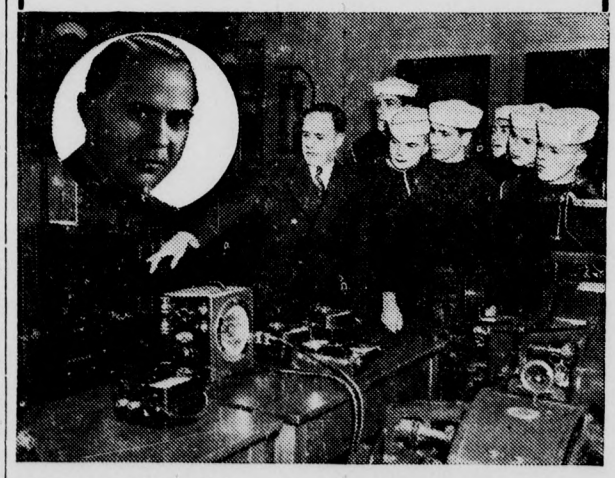
"NAVY TRADE TRAINING GAVE ME MY START" SAYS PRESIDENT, SPERRY CORPORATION



THOMAS A. MORGAN (pictured in insert), president of the Sperry Corporation, world's largest manufacturers of aeronautical and marine instruments, received his early technical training in the U. S. Navy, in which he enlisted as a young man. "This has proved of great value to me in later years," said ex-sailor Morgan. Pictured above are new Navy recruits receiving electrical training at one of the modernly equipped Navy Trade Schools. The Navy offers training to young men in nearly 50 different trades and vocations.

Opportunities for advancement, to learn skilled trades, for travel and adventure are identical whether a man enlists in the regular Navy or the Naval Reserve—and his pay, food, clothing, medical and dental care are the same.

THE BOOK MARK

by marty

A Leaf in the Storm by Lin Yutang.

The author of "Moment in Peking" has succeeded again. Though a shorter book than any of his others, the story does not suffer because of its brevity.

Your Book Mark was "A Leaf in the Storm" throughout the tale. I like the title immensely, don't you? And it is appropriate, too, I find. Often the titles are disappointing.

Like the author's previous works, this one deals with his own country, China, and his own people. It is a story of the present time, the action taking place within the past couple of years. Their war with Japan features extensively, bringing our own present situation more realisticly to our minds.

This is a dramatic love story, sensitive and powerful with the action centering around three characters: Poya, young, handsome, wealthy, and viewing the war impersonally and analytically; Lao Peng, his friend, generous and warm hearted and a Buddhist, who is interested solely in humanity; and Malin, who later in the book is Tanni, young and beautiful, who is mixed up emotionally with Poya and Lao Peng, and with whom her destiny is tied.

"War does strange things to people," Lin Yutang says repeatedly. What effect it has on the young people, and particularly on Malin is the main theme of this book.

Also in the book there is a vivid and authentic picture of a patient and peace-loving nation angered and "bursting forth like a flood that snaps steel and concrete with the terrific gathered momentum of atomic energy that is in the weak substance called water."

Your Book Mark found the story deeply interesting, the theme timely and the author's renowned writing ability aptly sustained.

The W. S. C. S. of the Methodist church will hold its annual Christmas tea and bazaar on Friday afternoon, Dec. 19, from 3 to 5 o'clock at the home of Mrs. William N. UNCLE SAM'S SAILORS ON HORSEBACK SEE PANAMA FROM THE SADDLE

No, the U. S. Navy doesn't have a cavalry unit, but many a sailor straddled leather before giving up his bucking broncho or plow horse for the bounding main.

The sailors in whites above are seamen in the U. S. Naval Reserve on shore leave in Panama. No distinction is made between sailors in the Naval Reserve and those in the regular Navy. Enlistment in the U. S. Naval Reserve is for four years, but all men enlisting in the Naval Reserve will be released to inactive duty as soon after the national emergency as their services can be spared, regardless of the length of time remaining in their enlistment. If the emergency ends within a period of several months, those enrolled in the Naval Reserve will not be required to complete their 4 year term in active service.

Opportunities for advancement, to learn skilled trades, for travel and adventure are identical whether a man enlists in the regular Navy or the Naval Reserve, and his pay, food, clothing, medical and dental [illegible] are the same.
